Line 6 plus line 7						8

Enter on line 31400 of your return whichever amount is less: line 8 or $2,000. However, if you are electing to split your eligible pension with your spouse or common-law partner, complete Form T1032, Joint Election to Split Pension Income, to calculate the amount to enter on line 31400 of your return instead.

Line 31600 – Disability amount for self

You may be able to claim the disability amount if the CRA approved your Form T2201, Disability Tax Credit Certificate, that was certified by a medical practitioner.

To be eligible, you must have had a severe and prolonged impairment in physical or mental functions during 2025.

If you were eligible for the disability tax credit for 2024 and you still meet the eligibility requirements in 2025, you can claim this amount without sending the CRA a new Form T2201. However, you must send the CRA a new one if the previous period of approval ended before 2025 or if the CRA asks you to.

For more information, see Guide RC4064, Disability-Related Information, or go to canada.ca/disability-credits-deductions.

If you qualify for the disability amount and, on December 31, 2025, you were:

- 18 years of age or older, enter $10,138 on line 31600 of your return
- under 18 years of age, complete the calculation below

Base amount				10,138	00	1
Maximum supplement			5,914	00		2
Total of child care and attendant care expenses for you that you or another person claimed						3
Threshold for child care and attendant care expenses	–	3,464	00			4

Line 2 minus line 5 (if negative, enter "0")				=		6
Line 1 plus line 6						7
Enter this amount on line 31600 of your return.			(maximum $16,052)	=

Line 31800 – Disability amount transferred from a dependant

You may be able to claim all or part of your dependant's (other than your spouse's or common-law partner's) disability amount from line 31600 of their return if all of the following apply:

- A medical practitioner certified, using Form T2201, Disability Tax Credit Certificate, that your dependant had a severe and prolonged impairment in physical or mental functions during 2025
- The CRA approved Form T2201 for your dependant
- Your dependant was resident in Canada at any time in 2025
- Your dependant was dependent on you for support on a regular and consistent basis for all or some of the basic necessities of life such as food, shelter, and clothing
- One of the following applies:
 - You claimed an amount on line 30400 of your return for that dependant, or you could have if you did not have a spouse or common law partner and if the dependant did not have any income (see line 30400 of Schedule 5 for conditions)
 - The dependant was your (or your spouse's or common law partner's) parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, brother, sister, aunt, uncle, niece, or nephew and you claimed an amount on line 30450 of your return for that dependant, or you could have if they had no income and had been 18 years of age or older in 2025

If your dependant was eligible for the disability tax credit for 2024 and still meets the requirements in 2025, you do not need to send the CRA a new Form T2201 to claim this amount. However, you must send the CRA a new form T2201 if the previous period of approval ended before 2025 or if the CRA asks you to.

Notes: You cannot claim the unused part of the disability amount if the spouse or common-law partner of the person with a disability is already claiming the disability amount or any other non-refundable tax credit (other than medical expenses) for the person with a disability.

If you are splitting the unused part of this amount with another person, the total amount claimed for that dependant cannot be more than the maximum amount allowed for that dependant.

If you or someone else paid for an attendant or for care in an establishment for that dependant, special rules may apply. For more information, see Guide RC4065, Medical Expenses.

For more information about amounts you may be able to claim, see Guide RC4064, Disability-Related Information, or go to canada.ca/disability-credits-deductions.

Complete the following calculation for each dependant who is eligible for the disability tax credit in 2025. If you have more than one dependant, use a separate sheet of paper.

Enter the total of allowable amounts claimed for all dependants who qualify for the disability tax credit on line 31800 of your return.

Line 33199 – Allowable amount of medical expenses for other dependants

You can claim the part of the eligible medical expenses that you or your spouse or common-law partner paid for each of the following persons who depended on either of you for support:

- your or your spouse's or common-law partner's children 18 years of age or older in 2025, or grandchildren
- your or your spouse's or common-law partner's parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, nieces, or nephews who were residents of Canada at any time in the year

For examples of expenses that you can claim, go to canada.ca/line-33199. The expenses you claim on line 33199 of your return must be paid in the same 12-month period used to calculate the eligible medical expenses that you claimed on line 33099 of your return.

For more information, see Guide RC4065, Medical Expenses.

Complete one column for each dependant. If you have more than three dependants, use a separate sheet of paper.

Enter this amount on line 40425 of your return.	=					9

(1) Enter only the amount of dividends that were not shown on an information slip.

Line 41000 – Federal political contribution tax credit

You can claim a credit for the amount of contributions that you or your spouse or common-law partner made in the year to a registered federal political party, a registered association, or a candidate in a federal election.

If you received, or expect to receive, any advantage for making a contribution, the eligible amount you can claim is the amount of the fair market value of your contribution that is more than any advantage. An advantage generally includes the value of certain property, service, compensation, use, or any other benefit.

If your total federal political contributions from line 40900 of your return were $1,275 or more, enter $650 on line 41000 of your return. If not, use the amount from line 40900 of your return to decide which column to complete.

	Line 40900 is $400 or less	Line 40900 is more than $400 but not more than $750	Line 40900 is more than $750
Total federal political contributions from line 40900 of your return				1

	+ 0 00	+ 300 00	+ 475 00	6
Line 5 plus line 6	=	=	=	7
Enter this amount on line 41000 of your return.

Line 45200 – Refundable medical expense supplement

You may be able to claim this supplement if all of the following apply:

- You entered an amount on line 21500 or line 33200 of your return
- You were resident in Canada throughout 2025
- You were 18 years of age or older at the end of 2025
- Your adjusted family net income is less than $63,374

In addition, the total of the following two amounts must be $4,390 or more:

- your employment income from lines 10100 and 10400 of your return (other than amounts received from a wage-loss replacement plan) minus the amounts from lines 20700, 21200, 22900, and 23100 of your return (if the result is negative, consider it as "0")
- your net self-employment income (not including losses) from lines 13500, 13700, 13900, 14100, and 14300 of your return

Note: If you reported income from more than one business on one specific self-employment line (13500, 13700, 13900, 14100, or 14300) and you are reporting a profit from one business and a loss from another, use only the profit amounts to determine if you meet the income requirement (noted above) to be eligible for this credit. If you are reporting a loss from only one business on one of these lines, do not include that loss.

You can claim this supplement for the same medical expenses you claimed on lines 21500 and 33200 of your return.

If you were separated because of a breakdown in your relationship for a period of 90 days or more that included December 31, 2025, do not include your spouse's or common-law partner's income when you calculate this supplement.

If your spouse or common-law partner died on or before December 31, 2025, do not include their income when you calculate this supplement.
